WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 29.

INCREASE OF FOREIGN IMPORTS.-The imports at New York, from foreign ports, in April, were nearly forty-six and a-half million dollars, or more than seven million in excess of the largest former monthly total in the history of the port. The heaviest return heretofore was for March, 1872, when the footings reached $39,218,268. This large return will startle some of those who are carefully watching the balance of trade." and is well calculated to create a profound sensation in both mercantile and financial circles.

The month of April closes ten months of the fiscal year. At this date, twelve months ago, we footed up a total of two hundred and ninety-two millions, and people almost held their breath as they read the astounding figures. For the ten months just ended, the imports at this port amount to three hundred and fortytwo millions of foreign cost alone.

The total exports hence for the last four months were more than eight millions less in produce and merchandise than for the same period of last year, and twenty-one millions less in all, including specie.

Taking the ten months together, the exports show a gain of only four and a balf millions in produce and merchandise, and a decrease of over thirty-two millions in specie. Leaving the specie out of the account, the increase in exports is less than five millions, against an increase in imports of fifty-six millions. Of the three hundred and forty millions merchandise landed here the last ten months, only $124,360, 989 were included in every form of dry goods the remainder consisted of teas, coffee, sugar, metals, spirits, hides, leather, spices, and every other form of general merchandise. It may be well again to remind our readers that about two-thirds of all the foreign imports of the country are landed at New York, and only about forty per cent. of the merchandise exports shipped from this port .- N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

The unprecedented early commencement of a general and severe drought has excited the apprehension of a short supply of water, and calls for preventive measures on the part of its officers to provide against all unnecessary waste by It is the earnest request of the President and Directors to heads of families that no unnecessary waste shall be permitted, and that servants and children shall shut off hydrants as soon a-possible when used. Especial attention is called to the use of washpans and bath-tubs, both fruitful sources of waste.

The rules and regulations of the Company. under its charter, provide fines and penalties for any and all unnecessary waste, and it becomes the imperative duty of the officers, especially under the condition of a scant supply, to enforce these wholesome regulations upon all offenders.
